Army, Navy, Air Force Roll Out The Red Carpet For John Citizen Saturday

Heralding Armed Forces Day, to be celebrated on the Peninsula tomorrow by Army, Navy, and National Guard units, two jet fighter planes from the San Diego Naval Air Base will pass over the Peninsula at noon today, the Navy announced yesterday.

Following their 600 m.p.h. flight over Carmel and Monterey, the craft will land at the Monterey Naval Air Station, where they will be on view to the public for two hours before returning to home base.

Armed Forces Day will be observed Saturday in a giant demonstration at Fort Ord main garrison, where the post will hold open house from 10-5. Throughout the day a two-block exhibit area will be occupied by weapons, planes, tanks, field equipment, and miscellaneous displays.

At 2:00 p.m. in the demonstration area, near Ord Village, weapon demonstrations will be pre- the National Guard. Free buses will be provided for transportation from Ord to all events.

Also scheduled are three athletic events, staged by the Special Services Office. These begin with an inter-post track meet at 10:00 a.m. at the Post football field. All types of track and field events will be held. At 2:00 p.m. the Eighth Infantry Regiment will meet the Del Monte Naval Air Station in a baseball game at the baseball field. Final event will be a boxing exhibition at 8:00 p.m. in the sports arena, featuring top fighters of the Eighth Infantry Regiment.

During the day service clubs and cafeterias will be open to the public, as well as a showing of documentary films at the central theater.

The U. S. Naval School, Del Monte, also promises open house from 10-5 tomorrow, in addition to a series of events of general interest. The 300 foot Navy Landing Ship Tank 845 will be beached at the foot of Park Avenue in Monterey from 10-5 for public visiting. The 845 will also be open for inspection today and Monday between the same hours.

During the war the LST served as task group ship and troop carrier in the western Pacific, and took part in the occupation of Japan and in relief administration in the Yangtze River Valley.

From 8:30 a.m. until its demonstration take off at 2:00 o'clock, a long range P2V navy patrol plane of the type holding the world's record for distance will be on view at the Naval Air Station. The twin

First Phone Numbers Now R.F.D. Numbers It's So CONFUSING

Consternation! Some 400 dwellers on the Point, out at Lobos and the Highlands, in Hatton Fields, Carmel Woods and Jack's Peak found a little notice in their R.F.D. mailboxes one fine morning last week, informing them that their box number had been changed.

This week it's operation paint brush as the astonished box holders sally forth to paint out the old and brush in the new number.

It's operation stencil at The Pine Cone, and such a whopping job that if all of you don't find your new number on this issue of The Pine Cone be patient. The P. O. has agreed to continue to deliver Pine Cones to the R.F.D. subscribers according to old box numbers until such time as we can make new stencils. Some of the stencils have been in use for 22 years, when R.D.1. was established. There weren't so many then.

Mrs. A. M. Allan at Point Lobos recalls that she and her neighbors gave up their post office boxes in Monterey and Carmel on the request of other neighbors, because a minimum of 70 was necessary in those days to establish a R.F.D. route, and it was nip and tuck to

Bramblett, Walker To Speak On May 24 At League Meeting

The Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters will hold its traditional pre-primary candidates' meeting on Wednesday, May 24, in the U.S.O. building at El Estero, Monterey. Meeting's purpose is to acquaint the public with office seekers in the June 6 elections. Contestants for the eleventh congressional district, Mr. Ernest K. Bramblett and Mr. Marion Walker are both slated to appear, as well as district attorney contenders Mr. Burr Scott and Mr. Edmond Sullivan. Candidates for other county offices also have been invited to attend.

Sandwich lunches may be purchased at the meeting by those not wishing to provide their own box lunches. The public is cordially welcomed.

Bob Doer Elected To City Council In San Jose

Robert (Casey at the Bat) Doer was elected a member of the San Jose City Council last Monday, The Pine Cone learned this week.

Doer was an exceedingly popular teacher at Sunset school preceding his service overseas during the war. His rendition of Casey at the Bat had so fascinated his Seventh Grade at Sunset that when he returned from overseas on furlough he was required to give a full reading of the classic, with gestures, to his Sunset Alumni, then well on their way through Carmel High School. They are now half way through Cal and Stanford, Vassar — a dozen colleges — and doing him credit.

After the war, Mr. and Mrs. Doer sold their home in Carmel

Entire Well Tempered Clavichord To Be Played For Bach Festival; Here Is Complete 7 Day Program

An exceptional program, in celebration of the Bach Bi-Centennial, has been arranged for Carmel's Thirteenth Annual Bach Festival, July 16 to 23, Gastone Usigli conducting.

One of the features is the presenting of the Well Tempered Clavichord in its entirety, with its 48 Preludes and Fugues, in three sessions in the Carmel Woman's Club. Maxim Schapiro will be the solo pianist.

The festival opens Sunday night at Sunset Auditorium with an innovation, The B Minor Mass, which traditionally closes the festival. The Heralding Trombones will be heard preceding the concert.

Monday at 11 a.m. the first part of the Well Tempered Clavichord will be given at the Carmel Woman's Club. The evening concert at the auditorium will have on its program: Overture in B minor; Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 and 4; Concerto in A minor for violin and orchestra and Concerto in D minor for piano and orchestra.

Tuesday's program opens with an 11:00 a.m. lecture at the Woman's Club; and afternoon organ recital at All Saints' Church. The evening concert program: Brandenburg Concertos No. 1 and 3; Concerto for Cello and Orchestra, Philip Em. Bach; Songs for Bass Voice; Concerto in E major for Violin and Orchestra; Concerto in E flat major for Piano and Orchestra, Mozart.

Wednesday, July 19: 11 a.m. lecture, Woman's Club. 3 p.m. Part I of Well Tempered Clavichord, Woman's Club.

Thursday, July 20: 11 a.m. Part II Well Tempered Clavichord, Woman's Club. 3 and 4 p.m. Organ Recitals, All Saints' Church. 8:30 p. m. Concert, The Art of the Fugue, for orchestra.

Friday, July 21: 11 a.m. Part III Well Tempered Clavichord. 8:30 p.m. Concert: Italian Concerto, Partitas and works for Piano; Suite for Cello alone; Woodwind Divertimento, Haydn; Preludes and Chorales for Organ.

Saturday, July 22; 11 a.m. Lecture, Woman's Club. 8:30 p.m. Concert: Overture in D major; Brandenburg Concerto No. 4 and 5; Cantata "Jauchzett Gott" for soprano voice and Orchestra; Concerto for three Pianos and Orchestra in D minor.

Sunday, July 23: 3 and 8:30 p.m. The St. John Passion for soloists, Chorus and Orchestra.

VOTE FOR FRY TODAY

Al Fry is running for election, unopposed, to the school board today. Polls are at Sunset School, open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

He was appointed before Christmas to fill out the unexpired term of Anita Dormody, who resigned. He went through the thankless hard labor of campaigning for the defeated school bonds. He is a worker, a diplomat, and is possessed of intelligence and executive ability. The community is fortunate that he is willing to serve on the school board, and it is hoped that the citizens will turn out and express their appreciation by a complimentary vote.—W.C.

Spring Concert To Be Benefit For Bardarson Fund

BY LYNDA SARGENT

Of all the fine deeds a community or an individual can perform, investment in a human future is the most rewarding. The act of generosity and foresight that prompted a group of Carmel citizens to establish the O. W. Bardarson Scholarship Fund in 1943, in honor of one of the town's most beloved teachers, is in the best Carmel tradition.

It is well known that the colleges of this country are filled with students who have little need and less aptitude for taking full advantage of their educational opportunities. Less thought is given to the fact that there are also a great many boys and girls of superior qualifications, of talent and ability, who for financial reasons must remain throughout their lives without the benefits of the higher learning that would make it possible to give back to their country the full measure of their possibilities.

The Bardarson Fund was created solely for these latter. It weeds out all but those of sincerity of purpose, straightforwardness of direction, excellence of academic performance and fineness of character.

At the present moment funds for this purpose are running low and it has been decided to give a benefit musical performance by the students themselves to raise money that the Fund may continue its good work. The concert will take place in Sunset Auditorium at 8 o'clock on the evening of May 24, and will feature the High School Orchestra, the High School Choir, the Band and the Sunset School Instrumental Ensemble.

Under the inspired direction of John Farr, head of the High School Music Department, the young men and women of the Carmel High School have achieved true eminence in their work, performing with great success before many and varied audiences. At the State Festival held in San Jose the first of this month, Carmel's orchestra was rated good in performance and excellent in sight reading; the choir achieved the honor of an Excellent in both sight reading and performance, as did the Band. Local people who have heard them will testify to the fact that they are all good, all excellent.

Under the direction of Arthur Holman, the instrumental group at Sunset School has made admirable progress and is ready for Dvorak and Offenbach.

Program for the evening will be found on page six.

Hoyland Bettinger

It was a perfect day for painting at Point Lobos Wednesday when Hoyland Bettinger set up his easel at the edge of the high knoll above Sea Lion Cove. But it will be a day long remembered, not for its beauty, but for the tragedy that ensued on a quick motion by the artist or a shift in position which probably caused his fatal fall to the rocks nearly a hundred feet below. For the loss of an artist in Carmel touches more nearly the heart of our town than others do, and Carmel will be rocked with grief and shock at the tragic occurrence.

Mr. Bettinger had gone out to sketch in the afternoon, driving alone in his car. When Clyde Ray, one of the park wardens, made his customary six o'clock checkup to see if all persons had left the Reserve, Bettinger's car was discovered unoccupied. Because of the dangerous terrain circumscribing the Park, careful vigilance is kept on all visitors. Ray went immediately into action, discovering the easel on which some preliminary sketching had been done, the upturned stool, the paints scattered on the ground, and the body partially submerged in water on the rocks below. Fracture of both arms and legs and a crushed skull resulted, with probable immediate death. Coroner Elmer Machado,

Skipper Lloyd Hurt In Block C Hi-Jinks

Francis "Skipper" Lloyd, 15-year old Carmel High School student, was in the Peninsula Community Hospital yesterday, scratched and bruised after being run down by an automobile towed by a group of Block C pledges in pre-school hours initiation activities at the high school.

Francis was one of several boys hauling the car by ropes, and was injured when he lost his footing and fell in the path of the vehicle. Driver Eric Short told Highway Patrol officers that his vision was obstructed by several participants sitting on the front of the car, and failed to realize young Lloyd's predicament until he had been pushed several feet by the wheel.

Lloyd was taken to the hospital by Red Cross ambulance, where preliminary examination of X-rays yesterday afternoon showed no fractures, although he is lacerated on the face and left arm.

Superintendent Stuart Mitchell told The Pine Cone yesterday that the affair was not part of sanctioned school activity. Further initiation ceremonies scheduled for yesterday afternoon were cancelled by mutual school and student consent.

PLENTY OF TOPFLIGHT SOFTBALL AT SUNSET FIELD NEXT WEEK

With some of the best teams in the area showing their wares, next week's softball schedule at Sunset Field should bring out filberts of the popular pastime. Three Monterey Bay Area league games will highlight the choice of softball fare which gets underway Monday night when the good Rasmussen & Moody team crosses bats with the win-hungry Pine Cone nine. There is no attempt to hide the intense rivalry which exists between these two teams and Monday's tilt should be loaded with fireworks. The Rasmussen crew would rather whip the printers than any other team in the league and will shoot their best talent at the popular Coners.

On Tuesday night, the daring Dons from Castroville will test the mettle of the Hale-led Wilder & Jones aggregation. Always the team to beat, the Dons have been the most popular team to dig their spikes in the Sunset diamond. Thoroughly softball wise and loaded with hitting power, the Castroville entry always puts on a good softball show.

CARMEL SMALL FRY PICK UP POINTS IN 20-30 TRACK MEET

Last Saturday morning a courageous band of Monterey Peninsula grammar school athletes braved the drippy elements to participate in the splendid track meet sponsored by the youth-conscious 20-30 Club. With very little cooperation from the weatherman, the kids had a grand time and thoroughly enjoyed the competition, ribbons, and ice cream dished out by the sponsors. Held at the Carmel High School track, the meet drew a limited entry from the Sunset school, but all the boys entering went home with ribbons. Howard Roloff, eighth grade star athlete, picked up two seconds in the dashes and ran a fine lap in the third-place relay team. Mike Mosolf, fifth grade speedster, won the high jump, placed third in the broad jump, and anchored the third-place relay team of Billy Powell, Dick Holt, George Wightman, Chuck Solomon, and Grimm Mason. Ken Barker copped first place in the eighth grade high jump and ran a strong lap in the relay team of Howard Roloff, Al Knight, and Tommy Brosnan.

PADRE NINE PLAYS FOR CCAL CHAMPIONSHIP THURSDAY

The 1950 baseball championship of the CCAL B division will be settled at the Hollister ball park next Thursday afternoon, when the Carmel Padres invade Hollister to challenge the Haybaler nine. Tied with identical records, these two teams will be going all out to snare the coveted trophy emblematic of the league champion. Hollister holds a slight edge over the Padres for the '50 season, having dumped the Carmel lads in their first outing. Since losing to the Haybalers, Carmel has been coming strong and will enter Thursday's game on an even-up basis. Pitching and infield strength will favor the Padres, while Hollister has the heavier hitters and faster outfielders. Henry Overin and Don Canham give Carmel a steady battery which is tops in the B division. Overin is the strikeout king of the loop and also enjoys the best earned run average of all CCAL flingers. Canham, an uncoordinated backstop at the start of the season, has developed into a smooth maskman and steady hitter. Jim Hare, although a bit impotent with the willow, is the best fielding first sacker in the league and provides a confident target for the other infielders. Dick Weer, Gene Vandervort, and Bob Updike round out the Carmel inner defense and provide most of the batting punch for the light-hitting Padres. All field and no hit characterizes the Carmel outfield, where Lee Laugenour, Bill Daniels, Niels Reimers, and Denicio Narvaez hold sway. Capable utility men, Stu Emery, Mike Ricketts, Bob Laugenour, and Myron Branson give the Padres a useful bench at all positions.

After Thursday's game, the Carmel lads will hang up the Padre suits and many of them will join the Monterey Junior Legion team for a summer of Legion competition.

PADRES END GONZALES JINX, WHIP SPARTAN NINE, 13 TO 1

Gonzales High School has often been easy for other schools to beat on the athletic field, but the Carmel teams have enjoyed very little success at the expense of the scrappy valley lads. However, the Padres acquired a glimmer of hope for future engagements last Friday afternoon as the Carmel baseball team arose to defeat the Spartans, 13 to 1. The victory was especially pleasing to the Padres as it kept them atop the B division loop and assured them of a championship game with Hollister.

The red and grey swingers started off with a flourish as they racked up three runs in the initial heat, never to be headed in the contest. Extra-base poke by Dick Weer, Gene Vandervort, and Niels Reimers provided the bat power for Carmel, with the mighty Weer collecting three for three, one a triple.

Bobby Updike played sparkling ball at his shortstop position to cut down several well-hit balls which were tabbed for base knocks. When the All-CCAL baseball squad is selected, pickers will have to reckon with the hustling Padre shortstop.

Lefty Overin pitched his usual steady game, allowing only three blows and King an even dozen.

MISCUES BETRAY WILDER & JONES IN 3-1 LOSS TO WATSONVILLE NINE

The Wilder & Jones plumbers opened their 1950 play in the Bay Area Softball League last Tuesday night, but the lid-lifter was disappointing to plumber followers, as critical errors nullifed the fine pitching of Warren Miller. Although the plumbers did not acquire an earned run off the slants of Dick Bushong, Crossetti-Berman flinger, the steelmen also garnered their three markers via the unearned route. Losing a close 3-1 ball game to the Crossetti-Berman team is no disgrace, as the Watsonville entry also dumped the strong Rasmussen & Moody nine last Saturday night. With the victory over W&J, the steelmen move to the top of the Bay Area standings, having a 2-0 record for the infant season.

Line score:

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Wilder & Jones ..	1	1	3
Crossetti-Berman	3	4	2

Batteries: W&J, Miller and Taylor; C&B, Bushong and Gonzales.

CRICKET VICTORY

Del Monte Cricket Club batted its way to a resounding victory over San Francisco's California Cricket Club last Sunday. With a score of 106 for 8 wickets declared, local cricketers triumphed over California's 33. Del Monte's prime cricketer, Eric Petri, again top scored with the day's record of 52.

Del Monte's next match will be held on home terrain at the Carmel High School next Sunday, at 1:00 p.m. Challenger of the day is the Surrey Club of San Francisco.

Review Of Monterey County Symphony

By Eben Whittlesey

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Clifford Anderson and Lorell McCann well justified the hopes of its sponsors and the untiring efforts of its members and leaders last Tuesday night as it wound up its fourth season. Local talent was prominent on the program with the singing of Hulki Saner, baritone, and the performance of compositions by Mr. McCann and Ronald Panton, a member of the orchestra.

Mr. Saner has a baritone voice of pleasing quality and firm strength. He chose the aria Di Provenza il Mar from Traviata and a Turkish lullaby with an orchestral accompaniment arranged by Mr. McCann. In both songs he was well supported by the orchestra.

One of the most effective items on the program was Mr. McCann's reading of the London Every Day Suite by Coates. This is a gay, fully orchestrated and colorful commentrary on the English scene into which the orchestra put plenty of life and a compelling rhythm. The section entitled Knightsbridge March was particularly stirring. The first half of the program under Mr. Anderson's direction opened with the intermezzo from Goyescas, by Granados, which proved a very happy choice. Attack and rhythm were unusually precise for an opening number, and the harp and pizzicato strings were clear-cut, the orchestra as a whole well balanced.

The Beethoven First Symphony provided a pretty good test of orchestral progress, which was met with success by the players. There was clean attack, smooth playing and a pleasant feeling of assurance.

Following the Beethoven came a swift shift to the modern idiom with the playing of Ronald Panton's Air for English Horn and Orchestra. This is a gay, unpretentious piece with a catchy melody which is given an interesting development. The work was most enjoyable, and the orchestra seemed to enjoy playing it. The first half of the concert ended with a stirring presentation of Benjamin's Jamaican Rhumba. This was played with great vitality and sparkle, and the percussion section had such a good time doing its part that the whole audience caught the infectious rhythm of the music.

The program closed with the playing of Mr. McCann's own composition entitled Tone Poem. It is colorful in orchestration and has rich tonal qualities.

HI CHATTER

By Edwina Brown

A Leaders' Club dinner was held Thursday evening, May 11, with each course at the home of a different member of the Leaders' Club. The affair began with hors d' oeuvres at the home of Nancie Brown. Then the group went to Connie Campbell's home for soup and salad, followed by a main course at the home of Shirley Elliott. The dinner ended with desert at Ann Thoeni's home, with a business meeting following. Those who attended were: Miss Dorothy Wright, Dean of Girls at Carmel High School and sponsor of the Leaders' Club, Shirley Elliott, Christine Malvido, Janice Hatton, Edelen Cory, Connie Campbell, Ann Whittaker, June Updike, Suzanne Smith, Donna Douglas, Barbara Berg, Dee Sharpe, Eleanor Taggart, Nancie Brown, Ann Thoeni, and Joan Daniels.

The annual Cascarone Ball was given by the Spanish Club, Friday night, May 12, in the cafetorium. The affair was most colorful and very successful. Cascarones were sold, and a hugh pinata, filled with candies and pennies was broken. The dancers all scrambled madly to obtain some of the fillings of the pinata for themselves.

Spanish Club members on the planning committee are: Joe Beard, Jim Harget, Ann Spurr, Ed Goodrisk, and Frank Richey. The decoration committee was made up of Ann Spurr, Collette Ferguson, Kathleen Whittaker, Sibyl Kocher, Ann Marie Tanous, Carol Timbers, Nancy Bacon, Allene Knight, and Joan Daniels. The reception committee consisted of Jim Harget, Carol Timbers, and Barbara Horne. Refreshment committee members were: Donna Douglas, Dianne Lewis, Carlene Daniels, Carole Byers, and Frank Richey. Those on the clean-up committee were Bill Albee, Niels Reimers, Bob Updike, and Joe Beard.

A small party was given by Ken and Beverly Wightman at their home, Saturday night, May 13. Those who attended were Joyce Bannerman and Ed Seifert, Rod MacKenzie and Jackie Briggs, Dici Douglas and Artie Harber, Dee Sharpe and Chris Barnes, the hostess and her date, Ken Riley, and the host and his date, Jean Hallett.

An assembly was held Tuesday, May 16, in the cafetorium. The students were very well entertained by the Kansas City Gospel Singers. These men have sung all over the United States and Canada for the last twenty years. Their first selection was How Do You Do, Everybody. How Do You Do. Following came Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho. Ezekiel Saw That Wheel, came next, with Let the Church Roll On, following. The program ended with Hard Trials, Great Tribulations. The students received the singers very enthusiastically.

At the assembly, Mrs. Elsie Beaton, French and Latin teacher at Carmel High School, announced that a third year Latin student, Patricia Merivale, had won the annual Latin translation contest sponsored by Stanford University. This contest is open to third and fourth year Latin students of accredited California high schools. It is the first time in the short history of Carmel High School that one of its students has won the coveted first prize. Pat and Mrs. Beaton both received letters of commendation, and Pat received a check of ten dollars as first prize.

Community Hospital Now Owns Annex

Purchase of the Santa Fe and Camino del Monte Convalescent Annex by the Peninsula Community Hospital was announced last week by Thomas W. Norris, president of the hospital's board of directors.

Property was bought from Stanford University by means of a sizeable down payment and monthly amortization contracted by the Grace Deere Velie Foundation, operator of the institution, following failure to secure state or federal funds for expansion, Norris said.

The building will be remodeled to accommodate the hospital's medical department, and at a future date a pediatrics section, directors indicated.

The annex has been occupied on a rental arrangement with the university since March, 1943.

Mrs. Cameron's New Novel Makes Local Debut

Unheard Music, first novel of first time author Eleanor Cameron will find its featured spot in local booksellers' windows next week. A quarter century ago Mrs. Cameron last saw her name in print when, as Eleanor Butler, it appeared over a dramatic short story penned by her twelve year old hand. For this primary effort, sold to a Berkeley newspaper, young Miss Butler acquired eight silver dollars and a driving ambition to hit the higher brackets.

Mrs. Cameron, a Los Angeles resident, is currently visiting her mother, Mrs. William Warren, a confirmed Carmelite of some two years standing. Herself an intermittent. Peninsula fan since childhood, Mrs. Cameron's forthcoming novel, now in its third month, will have Carmel backgrounds and Carmel characters for its focal point.

Without benefit of agent or editing Unheard Music made a one way trip to publishers Atlantic-Little, Brown, and return mail brought the coveted long thin contract envelope. A short story which they finally found themselves unable to accept, interested the Atlantic Monthly in Mrs. Cameron's work. The rejection letter asked for a novel: they received, read, approved Unheard Music and, in record time, they put it through the presses.

During the twenty five years between publishing appearances Mrs. Cameron has continued to ply a busy pen despite the demands of marriage, housekeeping, raising a young son and, concurrently, work- in a Los Angeles public library. It was there she drew the inspiration for her novel which deals with library life and contacts in a pattern of mood and emotion.

Mrs. Cameron will discuss her novel, which in technique follows a new line of the Virginia Woolf tradition, in a television interview with Anthony Boucher, next Monday, at 4:00 p.m. on station KRON. Another broadcast is scheduled from KCBS later in the week.

Between radio and lecture appearances, Mrs. Cameron will remain in Carmel with her mother and six year old son, David, for another fortnight, and then returns to her Los Angeles home, her husband, Mr. Ian Cameron, and the burgeoning new novel.

J. de Guiscard

Joseph Kerkham de Guiscard, 69, retired businessman who made his home in Carmel for the past three and a half years, died suddenly early Saturday morning at his residence at Carmelo and Fourth, victim of a heart attack.

Mr. de Guiscard was a native of Brooklyn, N.Y. He is survived by his wife, Lena P. de Guiscard of Carmel.

Private services were held Monday morning at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium, Pacific Grove, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. Paul Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Congressman Richard M. Nixon, candidate for U. S. Senator, is the featured speaker at the Republican meeting to be held in Sunset School auditorium, May 25 at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Nixon will appear under the joint auspices of the Monterey Peninsula Republican Women's Club and the Monterey Peninsula Republican Assembly.

As a member of the Committee on Un-American Activities Representative Nixon, now serving his second term in office, has been credited with a crucial role in solving the Hiss-Chambers espionage case. In the House Committee on Education and Labor, Nixon played an important part in drafting the Taft-Hartley Act in 1947, and he served as member of the Herter Committee which investigated operation of the European Recovery Program.

Cherry Foundation To Present Kersh In Santa Barbara

Under the sponsorship of the Carl Cherry Foundation of Carmel, Henry Kersh will give his first Santa Barbara solo dance recital at the Lobero Theater on Saturday, May 20. This week the Foundation stated that it is sponsoring "Henry Kersh because he is a dancer of great potentiality. This opinion is confirmed by those experts of the dance who have found in Kersch's interpretations the same natural rythmic flow and fluid grace of body which were inherent in the dancing of Isadora Duncan, Nijinsky, Pavlowa and Kreutzberg."

Kersh applies an unconventional technique to his dance presentations. By means of creative imagination plus a strong dance technique, he has evolved a new form of dance in which he spontaneously interprets each selection of music as if it were being heard for the first time.

Joel Andrews, harpist, and Horacio Martinez, pianist, will provide the music for Kersh's dances and will be heard in several solo selections. Some of the music was arranged by Richard Ames of Santa Barbara. The program includes classic and modern selections. Most of them have not previously been used for dance interpretations. Kersh has previously been seen on the Lobero stage as the partner of Lotte Goslar. Several recitals by the young dancer recently won acclaim in Carmel, Ojai and Los Angeles.

reporting on the autopsy, said there were no signs of either heart or brain trouble, that all other findings were negative, and pronounced death the result of a presumably accidental fall.

Hoyland Bettinger was born in Lima, New York, on December 1, 1890, and educated at the Wesleyan Seminary there, where both of his parents taught. All his life an artist by native gift and temperament, he travelled widely in Europe and in Central America, studying the work of the masters and achieving by the hard way mastery of his medium.

During his young manhood he acquired an old mill at West Newton, Massachusetts, and founded there the Boston Hobby and Craft School, of which he was the moving spirit, and which brought him success and gave him a great deal of pleasure. Subsequently, he established a studio and school in the village of Perce on the Gaspe Peninsula in the Province of Quebec, where, as artist and head of the Gaspe Painting School he became recognized as a landscapist of distinction and a man with a talent for teaching.

For the duration of the last war, he gave up his beloved work and went into the business of making Naval Training films for the General Electric company, as a result of which he was nominated manager of the WRGB television studio and became an expert on the subject of light, writing then his well-known book, Television Technique.

In 1943 he married Margaret Higgins in Albany, New York, and as soon as his war work was finished he realized a long cherished dream, and moved to Carmel to spend the remainder of his life in the surroundings he so loved and in the work that had been his life's one aim.

The four years he spent in Carmel blessed him with the full realization of his dreams. At his death, he was a director on the board of the Art Association and a painter of distinguished calibre. Last year he took over the art classes at Monterey College in the absence of Lee Randolph, and earned from his students the love and gratitude that comes to a man gifted to impart to others the secret of his work. This episode he most dearly treasured, often speaking of it with humble pleasure in the love he had earned from his boys and girls, and their assurance that he would never be forgotten by them.

In their relatively brief span of Carmel life the Bettingers have become representative of the charming and dear folks who make here an island of happy living, an active and vital contribution to the kind of Carmel of which the dreams of old oldtimers were fashioned. Of Hoyland Bettinger it is everywhere said that he was a sunny man, a fine artist, forever enchanted with people, filled with enthusiasim, one of the movers of the world in which he so graciously lived. His absence will mean a grievous loss to the Art Association and to his loved and loving friends all over the Peninsula.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Higgins Bettinger, living in Carmel and an employee of the Monterey Trust and Savings Bank here; and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Harris of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and Mrs. Fred Hardenbrook of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon, Friday, at 2 o'clock at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove, T. A. Dorney in charge. The Reverend Howard Dowd will officiate. It is requested that flowers be omitted.

New First Graders, Kindergarteners Sign Up Today

Registration for new kindergarten and first grade students entering Carmel schools in September, beginning yesterday, continues today and Monday, Sunset Principal Arthur C. Hull has announced.

For those living north of Ocean Avenue, registration will be at Carmel Woods School, and for those south of Ocean, Sunset School. Hours are: today, 1:00 to 3:30; Monday, 8:45 to 11:15 a.m.

Kindergarten students, to be eligible, must have been born on or before March 1, 1946, and first graders on or before March 1, 1945.

Registration at this time is imperative, Mr. Hull advises, since California State Law stipulates that children shall not enter these grades after the first month of school.

Parents are asked to bring students' birth certificates or equivalent proof of age, and health records. Recording and registration takes about half an hour.

The Time Has Come . .

By Kippy Stuart

Have you ever tried to grow the African Violet indoors? Have you succeeded, and by success, I mean a continuous shower of healthy blooms? Well, if this is your experience, you are a veritable wizzard in the living room. I have been asked more questions about African violets than any other growing thing. And the truth of the matter was, that I knew nothing to report. Finding myself inadequate on this count, I took this week out to do some research on this favorite living room plant, and I came up with some very surprising answers.

The Saintpaula Ionantha, commonly called the African Violet, is not supposed to be a continuous blooming, or even a continuous growing plant. The life of one plant is one year. Forcing with chemical fertilizers, will naturally lengthen the life of the Saintpaula, but the poor thing does not want to go on struggling after it has done its bit. No where in my research did I find one horticulturist recommending separating the roots to increase the plants. In fact this subject was not even mentioned. Now I happen to know that many of my friends have been successful on this count, and all I can say is that they were lucky. But one Indoors-gardener tells another Indoor gardener how easy it is to separate African Violet roots. The second gardener tries and meets failure. There are always exceptions to rules, and the one who succeeded was the exception.

This showy living room decorator can be kept in continuous bloom very easily. When you acquire your new plant, immediately pinch off a leaf or two as close to the roots as possible. Put the stem leaves in coarse sand, keep in a warm spot (not sunny), and in eight months you will be blessed with a new plant to take the place of deceased "mama". There is no trick to this; the process is very easy.

With the adult plant, the position in the living room is of much importance. No draft must chill the plant; no hot sun must touch the leaves. The watering process is either from above, or water in the saucer. The reason so many owners fear to water the pot directly, is the caution broadcast by all who know; don't wet the foliage. Here comes a contradiction; about once a week, the foliage should be treated by a misty, very fine spray.

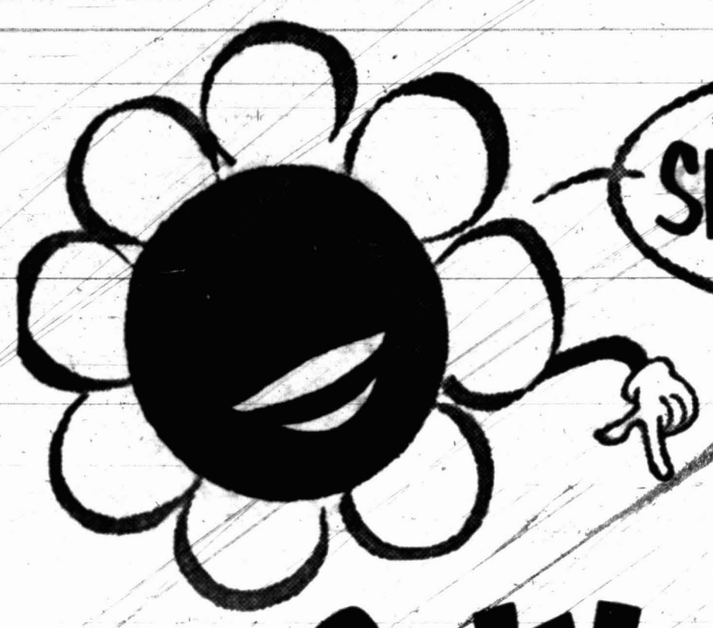

I am now an owner of a noble Saintpaula Violet and I am going right along with the rest of you experimenting and trying my luck. This process of fertilizing has been recommended; about once in ten days, give the plant a liquid chemical fertilizer. I have a gallon jug mixed to formula, (one table spoon of fertilizer to one gallon). This jug reposes on my pantry shelf and it is a delicious, cool green color. I only hope some inquisitive person does not haul the lovely green bottle down and try it on himself!

WHITESIDE COLOR SLIDES

Under auspices of the Photographic Appreciation group of the Carmel Adult School, Therese Whiteside will show 200 color slides on the auditorium screen of Sunset School, May 22, at 7:30. Among Miss Whiteside's subjects are Borrego desert flowers, Death Valley, Centennial Pageant, Monterey, Carmel Valley and Big Sur.

According to Who's Who in Color Photography Miss Whiteside ranks first among women color salon exhibitors in California. She will act as judge in the forthcoming Southwest International Salon of Photography at the San Diego Fair to be held from June 30 to July 9. Miss Whiteside won first prize in the Oakland Camera Club for the Annual Award on monthly competition in color photography.

Half Way Mark Is Approached In Theatre Stock Sale

Fund raising campaign for the Carmel Playhouse corporation, to end May 31, was at the half way mark this week end.

Preferred stock to the value of $50,000 must be sold before the end of the month under regulations set by the Corporation Commissioner. Among principal investors are Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Kuster, who have contributed land for the project to be built on the site of the Playhouse recently destroyed by fire, in exchange for common stock.

General campaign was opened Monday, when temporary directors were hosts to members of the Advisory Board, including Captain Archer Allen, Mrs. Mariquita Brey, Neville M. Cramer, Ted Fehring, Mrs. Gladys Kiplinger, Walter Kreisler, Miss Elizabeth Niles, Richard Osborne, Rollo Payne, Frank Plaisted, Dr. A. L. Van Meter, and Fritz Wurzmann.

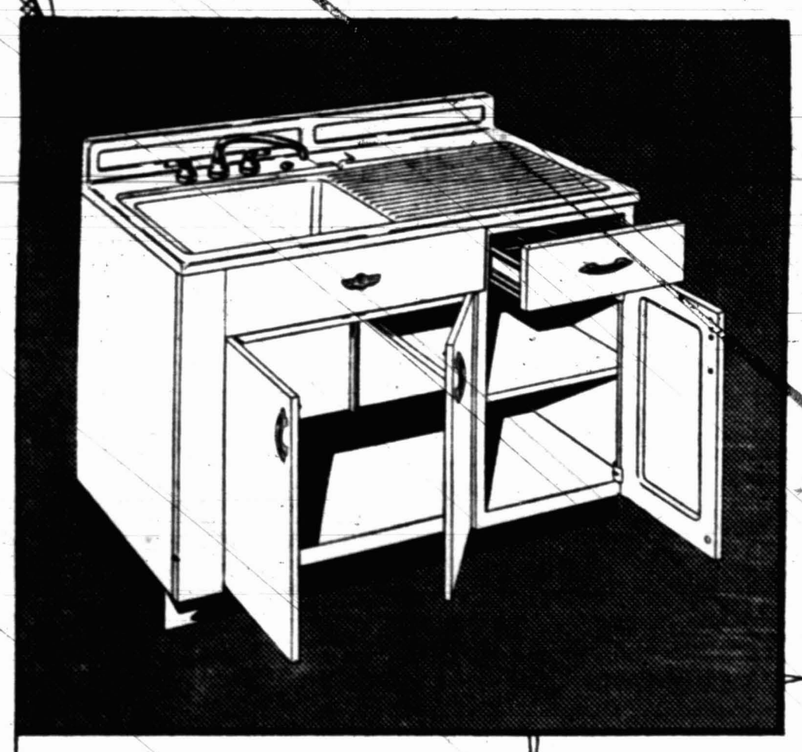

Stanley Pedder is counsel for the new corporation.

Carmel residents wishing to invest in the reconstruction of the Playhouse are asked to contact Pedder's office on Dolores street, or call Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte, 7-6043.

Me and the Universe

Letters to his family from a Carmel lad, twenty or thereabouts, studying art and getting into predicaments in Europe.

By Ric Masten

February 6, 1950.

Pisa is fine although the room I had in my hotel must have been meant for a woman because it was all done away in gauzy stuff. I felt as if I'd slept in a first-aid kit when morning crawled in my window.

The town was hit pretty badly during the war, yet the people are all friendly, clean, and well—quite an improvement over the Neapolitan creeps. No one tried to sell me anything either.

The leaning tower was really something. Gosh! What holds that thing up? When I climbed to the top I had the feeling that I might be the straw that broke the camel's back.

I went back to the hotel for lunch. I wanted an egg, and when the waiter came I made like a chicken. But the waiter brought me roast chicken and my wallet took quite a beating. I've been pretty tight with my money on this trip so that the moths in the zipper part of my pocket book sure made their g e t a w a y. I found only a thousand lira note left. What's more that has to last me until I get into France. Try living on $1.50 for two days in the United States and see how far you get.

As I was about to leave the dining room I heard a typical American business man's voice asking for something. He had apparently just gotten off the train. I sure hid my saddle shoes in a hurry when I heard him shout to one of the waiters, "Well, Son, what have you got in this town?" If I had said to him, "Why everybody knows Pisa is famous because it has the Coliseum." I bet the dope would have spent the next day and a hundred dollars looking for it. This was written on the train.

Now I am in Genoa, and have great catastrophies to relate. I'm flat broke! I thought I had one twenty dollar American Express check left but when I looked more closely at my check, it turned out to be a blotter! I had been saving the check for tomorrow when I got back in France. Besides all this I had to pay five hundred of my thousand lira for taxi from the station to my hotel. So I said to myself, "Let's have some fun and leave Italy with no cash at all." This I did, having a dinner that cost four hundred lira, and then tipped the elevator boy my last hundred. Now I'm as broke as a beer bottle at Big Sur Park.

Boy, you can imagine my shock when I opened my Express check book and there was that blotter staring up at me. Tomorrow I'm going to have to carry my suitcases all the way to the train station and at the moment it's raining like the devil outside.

The whole business has given me to think quite a bit. I have all my train tickets and hotel reservations and one breakfast a day paid for, still, it will be five more days before I get back to Paris. I guess I'm going to sail on with a breakfast and a prayer. But I think it will be fun living on my wits for awhile, says I to myself, keeping a stiff upper lip.

I've got a feeling I'm going to need all my sleep, so till tomorrow when my feeble fingers scratch their pathetic message to you, Mom, I fall into the feathers to dream of five cups of coffee and five buttered rolls.

February 7, 1950.

Here I am back in France, to be exact, in Nice. But first a report on the money situation. I had two hundred twenty-five francs left. About six bits in good old American terms. I sold a package of carefully hoarded Swiss pipe tobacco to a porter here at the Nice train station for three hundred francs. Then I turned right around and spent seventy-five francs for postcards and stamps to keep you and Elizabeth posted as to my doings.

Now for today's travels. It was still raining in Genoa when I set out at ten in the morning, to walk to the train station. Boy, those two miles were long wet ones. Take Hopalong Cassidy's name, twist it a little, and you know my new nickname, "Hobble Along Halfaday." I got there at a quarter to twelve, staggered into my compartment on the train and quietly passed out. When I woke up we were travelling along the seacoast and, Gee! Does it look like home. Same sort of rocks and the water is the same purpley blue. I didn't know how much I had missed that writhing, seething old stuff. It made me a little homesick, and I pressed my cold little old nose up against the window pane for the while trip. That is, until the customs men came in. The car was loaded, but guess who they picked on. That's right, the boy with diamonds in his socks, me! Well, I guess I had better explain that my suitcase looked to be in a worse mess than Jim's and my room when no one comes prying to see what it looks like. When I popped it open everyone in the compartment and the custom officials peered into it. What they saw looked like the bottom of a laundry chute. Customs stood back, but after a minute of careful consideration, screwed up his courage and approached the frightful thing. My uniformed friend poked a shirt with a pencil. The shirt moved over by itself and revealed a booby trap of soiled underwear. I had been living out of that bag for a long time; so what could you expect? The man with the pencil took a poke at the underwear and produced a rattling sound, and I thought to my self, "Ah ha". He unwrapped the tattle tale grey things and found the sea shells I had collected on the Lido! Under my last clean, white and unwrinkled shirt, a dirty paint rag was found! I was a little embarrassed by this time, but the search went on. A look in my other pair of shoes brought forth some orange peels from a Florence orange! The people in the aisle were crowding into the compartment and whispers were echoing through the train. Under my sport coat, that was wadded up into a ball, a leaky bottle of turpentine was discovered; a number of other things were found, but when he got to the twenty-seven ash trays collected from all sorts of places, customs looked at me and smiled, and I was stamped okay! While I was packing everything back into my suitcase were my ears red!

We got into Nice after dark, so can't tell you much about it. Tomorrow I am going to hitchhike out to Monte Carlo and paint. I sure am hungry but I'm having a heck of a good time.

February 8, 1950.

Things are not as bad as they might be in the money line. I still

Need For Blood Is Greater Than You Think; Give May 25

Blood Bank Day is May 25, Thursday, at the Monterey U.S.O. Local donors, willing to lend a pint of the vital fluid to the Bank, are urged to phone the Carmel Red Cross, 7-6921.

During the first four months of this year, January through April, local hospitals have used 293 pints of whole blood, although collections have totalled only 230. This means 63 pints borrowed from other counties connected with the four-county blood program.

It also means that we are unable to build up a back-log of whole blood, plasma and blood derivatives in case of local disaster, or national disaster. Civilian Defense and the National Red Cross are at present stressing this latter angle, as radiation warfare becomes an increasingly sinister threat.

"Survivors of the first blast may be saved by the administration of blood and blood plasma continuously for three weeks, which is the most crucial period," according to Mr. Russell Ball, Chief of Research Services, Atomic Energy Commission, in a recent Blood Service Regional Co-ordinating Council Meeting at Hotel Millas in Gilroy.

Me And The Universe . . .

have some but not as much as I should have.

This morning when I went down to breakfast (for my coffee and roll) I sat down at a little table opposite an Englishman with great eyebrows. Pretty soon he spoke out from under this camouflage and we started talking. Before I knew it I had sold him the little painting I did of the Ponte Vechio in Florence. He had just come from Italy himself, only on his trip he had neglected to bring out any souvenirs such as ashtrays, bits of marble from ruins, not to mention sea shells. He looked at everything I had done on this trip so far and picked out the bridge thing. I liked it best myself, next to the one I did in Rome. Bristle Brows said, "I say." And I was left standing with twenty-five thousand more francs than I had, and six instead of seven paintings. About ten minutes later he followde his eyebrows back into my room. I thought, "I'm broke again." But he said, "I say, sign it." Gosh, I thought, "I'm a millionaire!" However if you figure it out twenty-five thousand francs may sound like a lot of money but its really about sixty bucks. Anyhow, I felt like a millionaire. And what's more, I intended to hang on to it.

After I got over my excitement I went down stairs to ask the man at the desk how I could thumb my way to Monte Carlo. Well, he said I should go over the mountain road and come back by the sea. I thought that might be all right for a tourist bus but not for me, my easel and my long naked thumb. Nevertheless, he convinced me, so I went over to the road that goes over the mountain, and the fourth car that came along picked me up. It was a little, tiny French car with a little, tiny Frenchman driving. We were a little crowded but I forgot that while looking at the beauty of the dramatic coastline. The nearest that I can come to describing it, is that it's sort of like driving over the Big Sur road. The bold mountains, bearded with pine, seemed to rush down to the purple blue of the sea, there to meet brush and bush and craggy rock. The frothy waves seemed to roll like bars of blue with white gloved fingers reaching from behind. The little boats with red sails skimmed along on the cool breath of the wind, then dipped and made for the magic land that swells from the aproned edge of the sea and there, close by, dangling her feet in the cool brightness is Monte Carlo, a little city that steps down and into the blue of the Mediterranean, a vision of beauty and of perfect calmness! Yeah! That's the joint where I lost almost all of the dough on that painting deal.

At the Casino they soak you five hundred francs to get in so you can lose your money. You have to check everything, coat, camera, guns, everything except, of course, your money. When I finally wandered into this plush place there were all kinds of creeps and sharp looking guys clicking things together and spinning wheels. It gave me the feeling that if everyone in the room were about thirteen years old, I would be the only one who couldn't ride a bike with out hands. I changed a thousand francs and played the slot machine and guess what? I won, two thousand! I felt then that I could ride a bike better than I thought. That's where I really got smart. I left and went out to paint. I went down by the wharves and got all set up. Then it started to rain and I had to go in. I did, but back to the Casino and lost everything playing Black Jack! I thought I had become a sharpie, but I should have stuck to the one arm bandits.

I got soaked thumbing my way back to Nice, but along the water's edge it sure was beautiful. At least I had had the sense to leave a thousand francs of my ill-gotten gains in my hotel room besides the two hundred twenty-five, so I'm better off than I was yesterday. I'm going to have a big dinner in about fifteen minutes, so I'll be broke tomorrow.

Emil Rissel

Emil Julius Rissel, for 20 years chef at the Del Monte Lodge, died Monday evening at Orinda Country Club, Oakland. His death ended a period of ill health of four months.

A native of Switzerland, Rissel began the practice of his trade in that country at 17, coming to the United States a few years later. He assumed the position of chef at the Lodge in the twenties, where he remained until six years ago. Since that time he had been associated with the Burlingame and Orinda clubs.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian Rissel, and two sons, William J. and Robert Rissel, all of Pebble Beach.

Mr. Rissel was a charter member of the Carmel Masonic Lodge, and active in the San Jose Scottish Rite order and the Shriners.

Services conducted by the Carmel Masonic Lodge were held Wednesday afternoon at the Paul Mortuary, with inurnment at the Little Chapel-by-the-sea Crematorium, Pacific Grove.

Portrait of an electrical appliance—King Size!

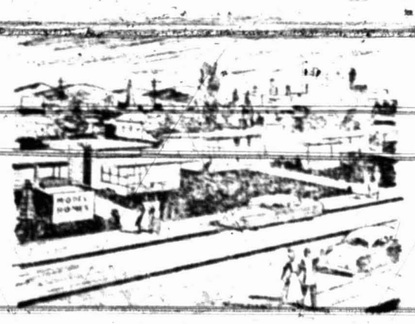

New Rock Creek hydroelectric plant, on Feather River!

This is just as much an electrical appliance as your toaster. We plugged it into the Feather River just two months ago. Instead of making toast, this modern hydroelectric plant keeps busy turning out 169,000 horsepower. That's enough to run all the toasters, and everything else powered by electricity, in the combined cities of Berkeley, San Jose, San Leandro, Fresno and Redding!

This is the 7th giant electric power plant built by P. G. & E. since V-J Day—to bring you vastly increased power—1,156,400 horsepower of new installed capacity—to help you run your household, do your chores.

As the West grows, as new homes, farms and factories come to Northern California, P. G. and E.'s resources grow, too. By next summer, for example, we will have an additional 670,000 horsepower ready to go to work.

P. G. and E. service does so much . . . costs so little

For the record

Everything gas and electricity do to make your living easier costs less in California. Even heavy farm chores are cheaper here when electricity takes over. P. G. and E. rates are among the lowest in the U. S.

Gardeners Away

To discuss the forthcoming annual meeting of California Garden Clubs, Inc., in Santa Barbara, the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club board met in Mrs. Howard E. Clark's home Monday evening. Localites definitely committed to undertake the interesting excursion are Mrs. Homer Martine, Mrs. F. L. Knudsen, Mrs. Laurence Lyon, Mrs. Lilly Pawley and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson. Trip probables are Mrs. Walter Burde and Mrs. Howard E. Clark.

The Santa Barbara meeting will convene at Hotel Mar Monte, May 31, and continue through June 3, business meetings alternating with lectures and detailed visits through private gardens, green houses, parks, nearby missions and historical monuments.

A program outline and registration-reservation information may be obtained from Plans and Planting, Box 1560, Santa Barbara, or Mrs. Ralph Coffey, 12204 Skyline Boulevard, Oakland, 19, California. Local Garden Club members wishing to make reservations may do so through Club president, Mrs. Frank Wilkinson, or the above mentioned board members slated to attend the convention.

Mr. Robert Tuckey will address the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club at its regular monthly meeting on Friday, May 19 at 8:00 p.m., in the Pacific Grove Woman's Club.

Up from Pasadena to reopen the Pebble Beach home and revisit familiar Pebble Beach locales, are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Baldwin. The Baldwins plan a Peninsula visit of several weeks duration.

Audubon Field Trip

Audubon Society members and their friends are summoned Sunday, May 21, for the Hatton Ranch field trip. Meeting hour is 8:00 a.m. at the service station adjacent to the Salinas Highway and Corral de Tierra intersection about 10 miles from Monterey. From that point the group will repair together to Hatton Ranch.

Members are asked to bring lunches for picnicking under the oaks.

A post-field trip Audubon Society meeting will be held for the annual officer election.

Hundredth Charter Received

The Monterey Peninsula Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta sorority was awarded the national group's hundredth charter last Saturday. During the State Day luncheon, at Loma Linda, Watsonville, Mrs. F. T. Kelleway, province director, presented the brand new charter to local president, Mrs. Walter Burde, who was also prime organizer of the Monterey Association.

Mrs. Burde was chosen to serve as local Delta Zeta president for another year, during the officer election that followed, and the following members received badges of new office: Mrs. A. A. Arehart, vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Sample Waldman, treasurer and Mrs. Val Lawyer, editor.

The Monterey Chapter holds its next meeting on May 27 in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Johnson at Carmelo and Eighth. Delta Zeta newcomers to the Peninsula are welcome to attend the meeting

Dr. Weston Lectures

At its Monday meeting Carmel Woman's Club enjoyed a sound film on the Congressional Library, exhibited by Dr. Ralph Weston, and studied with interest Dr. Weston's ancient book on Canine Psychology.

Garden chairman, Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, announced Mrs. Howard Thomas as speaker for the May 22 meeting. Mrs. Thomas, San Francisco horticulturist, has conducted garden club courses in all the Bay area cities and arranged the Women's Club landscaping at Treasure Island during the fair.

Mrs. Barbara Murphy presided at last Monday's meeting in the absence of Mrs. F. E. Vaughan. Mrs. W. C. Peterson was tea chairman of the day and assisting her were: Mrs. William Skowran, Mrs. John Bedford, Mrs. Kenneth White, Mrs. Ella Harris, Mrs. Charles Fonteneau, Mrs. D. M. Ashton and Mrs. Fred Eggiman.

Wayfarer Women's Election

Mrs. Leo F. Miller will be president of the Church of the Wayfarer's Women's Auxiliary for the coming year, it was decided at the group's annual luncheon election meeting in the church social hall last Tuesday. Other officers selected to serve on the new panel are: Mrs. Walter Roth, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Schieffler, secretary; Mrs. Howard Timbers, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Glen Taplan, treasurer.

Introduced by program chairman, Mrs. Ramsey Benson, guest speaker Mrs. Helen Johnson Small, distinguished welfare worker, discussed her recent work with the American Red Cross and UNRRA in Germany and Italy. In December of 1946 Mrs. Small brought 150 war orphans to America and since then has served on the United States Commission for the care of homeless European children.

Luncheon chairman Mrs. Guy Kell, was assisted by Mrs. G. B. Henderson, Miss Elizabeth Pelly, Mrs. James Pope, Miss Kay Rodgers, Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, Mrs. Charles Burrell and Mrs. V. Gansell. Mrs. David Nixon presided at the meeting in the absence of auxiliary president Mrs. Walter Kreisler. Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray gave the devotions.

Peacetime Army OK with Combat Vet

"My present Army job in personnel administration and career guidance is plenty exciting enough for me," says Sgt. 1st Class Albert E. Browne, veteran fighter with famous Merrill's Marauders.

Like many another war-time soldier who re-enlisted, Albert finds his Army job full of variety and interest.

"There's always something new and different to do and the Army gives you the chance to use your own initiative and judgment," says Browne. "A modern Army like ours is as fast-moving as most civilian businesses and offers a young man the same opportunity to get ahead."

Convening Canoles

Over 4,000 miles were covered by the Jack Canoles on their 16 day digressive trek to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company convention held recently in Colorado Springs. Eastward bound, the Canoles paused for a visit with daughter and son-in-law the John Magaldis in Reno but it was on the post convention westward way they built up their big mileage. The Canoles drove from Casa Verde cliff dwellings to Taos, the Grand Canyon, and Boulder Dam. In Los Angeles they enjoyed more family visiting, this time with Mrs. Canoles' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Edwards.

Jean Edmonds, Journalist

Rewarding digits and symbols $500 appeared on the check received by Jean L. Edmonds, Pomona College senior, from the Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Los Angeles. Check and second place distinction were awarded Jean in the Forest Lawn sponsored journalism contest, at a dinner held May 9 in Los Angeles' Ambassador Hotel. As a result of Pomona's three finalists' attainment the college, itself, received a grant of $1,000.

Jean is the daughter of Professor and Mrs. T. J. Edmonds of Carmel and Portland, where Professor Edmonds is faculty member of Lewis and Clark College.

Jean, an English major at Pomona, graduated from St. Helen's Hall in Portland and, during her college career has been active in campus organizations, has served as Mortar Board president and on the editorial staff of the college paper. She has won campus distinction through her feature articles and is planning to follow a journalistic career.

Carmel, Jean's summer city, was her prize winning subject, with entries also submitted on the Associated Colleges Church and a character sketch of her brother.

A further financial award was a finalist prize of $75.

For your film supply this weekend, the CAMERA CRAFT is pleased to announce that at both their shops on Ocean Avenue and at the Del Monte Lodge they have an abundant film supply in absolutely all sizes and varieties. Dark room facilities will also be available in both shops for all you who want immediate developing.

P.S. For anybody who's having trouble with his (or her!) camera, CAMERA CRAFT will be glad to help out at any time. So come in. You're always welcome.

If you're looking for just that extra skirt to complete your wardrobe and go with all your new blouses HARRIET DUNCAN is offering you some very special values in all wool and gabardine skirts in every size and color: plaids, checks, stripes and plain colors, some pencil slim and some flared. Many cotton skirts are also reduced to just $5.00! Paisley prints, solie-colored chambray and many others you'll find in this special selection. So stop in this week at HARRIET DUNCAN.

The VILLAGE BOOK SHOP is getting a new window display together and this time it's all the Theatre! You'll find many things pertaining to our own Carmel Playhouse and the Wharf Theatre, and among others, a beautifully bound edition of The Art of Scenic Design by Lee Simonson — a real pictorial analysis of stage designing. The Book of Costumes is another valuable gem with 3000 illustrations, plus several Eugene O'Neill plays and some by our local talent! The whole show is indispensable for the rabid theatregoers.

An excellent book of short stories by Angus Wilson is for sale now at HOLMAN'S BOOK DEN. It's called The Wrong Sit. The author is a new young writer, and a writer of the first rank! These stories are his first, in fact, the book contains the very first story he ever produced. A graduate of Oxford, Mr. Wilson has lived in South Africa and is now a member of the British Museum Library. "Each story ruthlessly uncovers and exposes the whole of one small . . . world. All of them are a purge for hypocrisy," says the New York Herald Tribune. This book is indeed a must for all of you short story enthusiasts.

The Greater Trumps by Charles Williams is the unique story of two young lovers who sought to find through magic cards, the original Tarot deck, the powers of eternal truth which are supposed to be symbolized in this deck of cards. You won't be able to put down this fascinating tale, we guarantee it!

Another fast-moving novel this week is The Town by Conrad Richter, the story of an American pioneer family. It is the sequel to two previous books of Mr. Richter, The Trees and The Fields, telling of the beginning of this family. This book is certainly one of his best!

Are you having trouble keeping your tot's toys in shape? HOLMAN'S TOY DEPARTMENT has your solution — a practically indestructable doll, not just a plain doll but a Polly Vee soft plastic doll, waterproof, non-toxic and it can be chewed (when they're teething!). Arms and legs can be put right back in, if pulled out, and best of all, it's nine inches tall. What do you think of that? As if that weren't enough, Miss Glamour Duck and Mr. Fireball, the turtle, are waiting for you, too. Perfect to sail in the bathtub or pond. Both are made out of pliable plastic, beautifully colored and — guest what — the duck quacks and the turtle hisses.

Long Week End

In February Mrs. Marie Wynne, of New York, paused for a quick look at the Monterey Peninsula before winging her way home. Her look lingered, and so did she, through March, and April, and half way through May. Only last week she managed to gird herself for departure but Mrs. Wynne's prompt and permanent return already is anticipated by her many friends on the Peninsula.

California Recalls

After several months visiting in Florida, Mrs. C. A. Nutchell winged her way back to California and her Carmel home last week. During her roving assignment she also made brief stops in New York and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Nutchell's daughter and son, Joan and Stevie Nutchell, converged in Carmel Sunday to celebate their mother's Mothers' Day return.

The Mutt Family Gets Around

The Mutt family are becoming Peninsula characters. Mr. Mutt, the first, who lives, while awaiting adoption, at the Humane Society's shelter on David Avenue, spent an afternoon outside Carmel Post Office on April 17th, successfully appealing for "the other fellows at the shelter." During Be Kind to Animals Week, (May 7th to 14th), his little cousin, Master Mutt, only ten weeks old, but full of the family's trusting and friendly spirit, offered his tiny white paws to shake or snuggled his small black face into the caressing hands of those who stopped to ask about the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to become members or to contribute to its building, clinic or education funds.

Master Mutt spent an afternoon sitting on a table at Holman's in Pacific Grove, escorted by Miss Muriel Townsend and Mrs. Harold Ralph. Another afternoon was spent, on Monterey's Alvarado Street, chaperoned by Mrs. Clyde Dorsey and Mrs. V. C. Vierra.

On Saturday night he left the business world for that of the holiday makers at the Pine Inn, Carmel, where he sat in the foyer, assisted by Lady Kinnoull, Miss Marjorie Fontana and Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts, and kind-received by the guests and attendants of the hotel.

S.P.C.A. FUND GROWING

An encouraging financial picture was reported by S.P.C.A. membership chairman Dr. Ralph Weston at the group's May 12 meeting. Dues of more than 200 new members had swelled the exchequer by $466, and Noel Sullivan and the Countess of Kinnoull have become life members.

More good news for animal lovers was revealed in director Miss Marjorie Fontana's announcement that ordinances were passed by the Monterey City Council against display, sale or gift of baby fowl or animals as novelties or prizes and forbidding their use in games of chance.

Currently serving on the membership committee are: Mrs. Clyde Dorsey, the Countess of Kinnoull, Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts, Mrs. V. C. Vierra, Mrs. Ralph Weston, Miss Marjorie Fontana, Miss Muriel Townsend and Mr. Noel Sullivan, who was also appointed chairman of a committee to consider issue of a Year Book.

Present at last Friday's meeting were: Dr. D. T. McDougal, Mr. King Maderos, Mr. Harold Green, Mr. Noel Sullivan, Colonel Shelburn Robison, Dr Ralph Weston, Mrs. Christine Raynsford, Miss Marjorie Fontana and Mr. Frank Haltef, Shelter Manager.

HOW GREEN IS YOUR THUMB?

Folks who can make things grow are said to have a green thumb. In our opinion anyone can have a green thumb, anyone who is willing to plunge his hands into the good earth and do right by his flowers.

Fine gardens are the result of a combination of things—good soil, good seed, sunlight, irrigation, and devotion.

Irrigation is an important element of this combination. . . . When, for instance, is the best time to water? In what manner should water be applied? How frequently should a garden be irrigated?

The answers to these questions can be found after one has learned the requirements of his garden . . . the need of individual plants . . . the types of soils . . . the weather influences prevailing . . . the habits of pests. Your local nurseryman, or other garden experts in your vicinity, can give you good advice on these matters. Follow accepted practices and you will have the best results. . . . Give thought to your garden and you will be rewarded with a pageant of bloom and a pair of green thumbs.

Delegates Report

The Monterey County Peninsula Business and Professional Women's Club held its first meeting under its new officers' panel at the House of the Four Winds on May 11. Speakers of the day were the delegates selected to attend the District Conference held in San Jose, April 15 and 16. Reporting delegates were: Mrs. Thelma Stohr, Mrs. Virginia English, Mrs. Irene Goodnow, Mrs. Laura Hardy and Mrs. Niki Groth.

Serving on Saturday's refreshment committee were: Mrs. Emma Cook, chairman, and Mrs. Moselle Claiborne, Mrs. Katherine Galios and Mrs. Delphine London.

The club's annual Pal and Friendship dinner is scheduled for May 25 at 7:00 p.m. in the Carmel Valley Inn. Members are encouraged to bring family and guests.

Selected to attend the State Convention of Business and Professional Women in Santa Barbara on May 18 to 21 are: Mrs. Niki Groth, Miss Elizabeth Thomsen and Mrs. Carol Boudouin.

Three's A Family

Suzanne Elayne Vial made a Sunday debut in the Peninsula Community Hospital with the Sabbath load of special blessings which run from blitheness through beauty to gaiety. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vial, plan introducing Suzanne Elayne to her new home today.

The new baby's mother, the former Jane Hopper, is a birth-to-motherhood Carmelite, schooled at Sunset and Monterey High and subsequently graduated from the University of California School of Fine Arts, and until recently was social editor for The Pine Cone. She is the daughter of well known, well loved local writer James Hopper and the late Mrs. Hopper. Suzanne Elayne is named for her godmother-to-be, Mrs. Suzanne Elayne Hopper.

Mr. Herbert Vial, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vial of Washington, has been an intermittent Peninsulite since childhood, and a permanent resident for many years. The Paul Vials, after extending grandparental greetings to Suzanne Elayne, ended a fortnight's visit to their growing family and drove north to their ranch, St. Cloud, on the Columbia River.

De Vera Baby

Mr. and Mrs. Julius de Vera's brand new home on Pescadero now has a brand new resident, Julie Natalie de Vera, who was born in the Peninsula Community Hospital on May 11.

Julie's mother, the former Wilma Jean Lowe, came to Carmel from Lodi in 1945, was subsequently married in Oakland, and the young couple returned to Carmel where they established permanent residence. Her mother is Mrs. Iril Benson, currently of Salinas, and her father Mr. James Almer Lowe of Oklahoma.

Mr. de Vera is son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andres de Vera of the Philippine Islands. The new baby is named Natalie after her father's mother.

Stamp Club Hosts

Some hundred eager eyed philatelists gathered in Sunset School's cafeteria last Sunday when the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club played host to the Council of Northern California Philatelic Societies at their quarterly meeting. Dealers and amateurs from the Monterey Peninsula to Sacramento enjoyed meeting their president, Mr. Charles H. Poole, and hearing club reports, lectures and a study of local exhibits.

Outstanding Peninsula exhibitors were Mr. Jesse Martin, Dr. E. T. Patee, Mr. Arch Gibson, Mr. Peter Ferrante, General E. S. Adams and Jack Farrell.

The group's next quarterly meeting will be held in Lakeside Park, Oakland, August 13, Mr. Pool announced.

Under chairmanship of Mrs. Peter Ferrante refreshments were served the group after the meeting. Assisting Mrs. Ferrante were: Mrs. Edgar Bryant, Mrs. Leland S. Stallings and Miss Lydia Weld. Young servers were: Alice and Anne Ferrante, Sandra Wilkinson, Joyce Bryant and Clyde Schroeder.

Women Voters To Vote

Officer elections for the coming year is agenda feature for the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters luncheon meeting to be held May 19 at 12:15 in Highlands Inn.

Names proposed by the nominating committee are: Mrs. Paul Riebe, president; Mrs. Frederick Farr, vice president; Mrs. Douglas Carter, second vice president; Mrs. V. S. Osmont, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. David Gill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wright Fisher, treasurer. Proposed directors are: Mrs. Richard Lofton, Mrs. Charles Sargent, Mrs. Leon Shappell, Mrs. Edwin Tucker, Mrs. Eben Whittlesey.

County council representative is Mrs. Horace Ayers. On the proposed nominating committee are Mrs. Peter Ferrante, Mrs. Arnold Meiners and Mrs. Harold Underwood.

Visit To Padua Hills

North for a Claremont visit with Mrs. Kyle Adams Rodeneck, of the Bay area city, is Mrs. Alicia Dumont. During her stay Mrs. Dumont attended the Padua Hills Theater with her hostess Mrs. Rodeneck, and another houseguest.

AWVS Internationalism

Government released films on Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand will be shown at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club on Tuesday evening, May 23, at 8:00 o'clock, under sponsorship of the International Relations Committee of the Monterey Peninsula unit of the American Women's Volunteer Services. Guest speaker Mr. Geoffrey Johnson-Smith, information officer of San Francisco's British consulate, will conduct a question and answer period at film's conclusion.

All AWVS members with their family and friends are cordially welcomed to attend the meeting which, it is emphasized, is to begin at 8:00 p.m.

At the May 2 meeting in her home Mrs. G. W. C. Whiting, International Relations chairman for local AWVS, read appreciative letters from Princess Pignatelli, of the Villa Nova school for homeless infants. This enterprise, which cares for some 60 youngsters from two years old to six, of the impoverished north Italian countryside, is in need of more clothing contributions. AWVS members and friends with donations to offer are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Whiting at 7-4162.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of Carmel Unified School District of the County of Monterey, State of California, that in accordance with law, an election will be held on the 1st day of June, 1950, in said District, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock A. M. and 7:00 o'clock P. M., during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open, at which election there will be submitted the question of issuing and selling bonds of said District to the amount of $478,000.00 for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes:

(a) The purchasing of school lots.
(b) The building or purchasing of school buildings.
(c) The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation, or repairs.
(d) The repairing, restoring or rebuilding of any school building damaged, injured, or destroyed by fire or other public calamity.
(e) The supplying of school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature.
(f) The permanent improvement of the school grounds.

All of the foregoing purposes enumerated herein are hereby united and shall be voted upon as one single proposition.

Said bonds proposed to be issued and sold shall be of the denominations hereinafter specified, and shall bear interest at a rate of not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable annually for the first year the bonds have to run, and semi-annually thereafter, and shall be numbered from 1 to 478 consecutively, payable as follows, to wit:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read this Sunday, May 21, in all Christian Science churches, with the Golden Text taken from Psalms: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him" (62:5).

The following citations are among those which will comprise the sermon:

The Bible: "When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory" (Colossians 3:4).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When spiritual being is understood in all its perfection, continuity, and might, then shall man be found in God's image. The absolute meaning of the apostolic words is this: Then shall man be found, in His likeness, perfect as the Father, indestructible in Life, 'hid with Christ in God,' — with Truth in divine Love, where human sense hath not seen man" (p. 325).

Commission Offers Off Street Parking Ordinance To Council

Planning Commission members took the first steps toward a long-discussed ruling Wednesday afternoon, when they moved to offer to the City Council a zoning amendment calling for provision of off-street parking areas in plans for a new apartment buildings.

Under discussion for several months, the plan designed to ease parking congestion in the business zone was expected to be submitted informally at an adjourned meeting of the Council convening as The Pine Cone went to press yesterday.

City Attorney Thomas Perry described the proposal yesterday as designed "to amend the zoning acts covering new construction in the business zone, so that apartments and other multiple dwellings may be built if off-street parking is provided on the same building site." Final decision in individual cases is expected to be determined by the Board of Adjustments of the Planning Commission.

Discussion on the subject coincided with an application presented by Ely H. Richardson for permit to construct a 12-unit apartment building on the southeast corner of Junipero and Third. Richardson had provided for the discussed parking area, in this case in the basement. He learned, however, that since the basement was not entirely below the street level, his plans indicated what was virtually a three-story building and therefore unacceptable.

Granted Wednesday afternoon was application by A. C. Smiley for permit to construct a car port ten feet from the front line of a building site on Torres near First avenue. Application was granted after review by the Board of Adjustments, since minimum setback normally allowed is fifteen feet.

French Consul Opens Norberg Sponsored Travel Program

Pierre Lenail, San Francisco's French vice consul, will open the Neighbors Abroad program sponsored by the Norberg Travel Service, this afternoon at 2:30 in Room 2 of Carmel High School. The public is invited.

This program, which will continue through May 26, features a series of films produced by foreign government agencies to familiarize Americans with their policies and customs. Technicolor sound films, with English narration, are to be presented and representatives of foreign countries will appear in conjunction with the program. Films on Finland, Egypt, Australia, Switzerland, Holland, Great Britain, New Zealand, Norway, Canada and other countries will be shown with other films supplied by airline and steamship companies.

Evening showings of these films, open to the public and free of charge, have been arranged at the following locations on the indicated dates: Central service club, Fort Ord, May 22; student union, Monterey College, May 23; high school auditorium, Salinas, May 24; auditorium, Walter Colton School, Monterey, May 24, solarium, Holman's Department Store, Pacific Grove, May 25 and auditorium of Sunset School, May 26. Different films will be presented at each of these showings.

At the AWVS May 23 meeting in Monterey Peninsula Country Club pictures of England, New Zealand and Australia are to be shown. Geoffrey Johnson-Smith, San Francisco's British Consulate General information officer, will address the meeting.

Other special programs on the agenda are showings to the Castroville Rotary Club and Salinas Masonic Lodge, today; Carmel Lions Club and AWVS, Monterey Peninsula chapter, May 23; Monterey Kiwanis Club, Carmel Rotary Club and Hartnell College, Salinas, May 24; Monterey Rotary Club, May 25, and Monterey Lions Club, May 26.

engined bomber is the Navy's largest aircraft capable of operating from a carrier, and will demonstrate jet assisted take off from the field.

In the lobby of the Naval School will be found an exhibit of training aids and materials from all academic departments.

A fleet of B-50s, B-29s, P-2Vs, and C-46s will join in Armed Forces Day observation from 10 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., representing the U. S. Air Force, and will be accompanied by the Navy's torpedo bomber the F-6F and flying boat MARS. Planes will circle Carmel, Monterey, Salinas and Watsonville as their goal in a flight beginning at 9:00 a.m. at Fairfield-Suisun Air Base in Northern California. Towns and military installations en route will be saluted by the fleet.

Social function of the day will be the Armed Forces Day luncheon to be held at noon at the Naval School, when the principal speaker will be Major General John R. Deane, USA (Ret.), former head of the U. S. Military Mission to Moscow. With his subject The Russians Respect Strength, he will speak on the importance of the armed forces in current negotiations with Russia. General public and members of all service clubs in this area are invited.

John Farr On P. G. Summer Faculty

John Farr, Carmel High School music teacher, has been appointed to the faculty of the Pacific Grove Summer School of Music. The 1950 session of the music school marks the 17th session of same. Ray Washburn has been appointed director of the school, and he has commented that it will probably be the largest.

Mr. Farr will instruct vocal at the school. The session will open on June 26, and will last through August 18. Registration will be made at the Pine Street Elementary School, Monday June 26, at 8:30.

Other members of the faculty are: Dr. Forrest Baird and Thomas Eagan from San Jose, J. Herbert Miller, Pacific Grove, Robert Nagler, Salinas, John Fields, San Jose, Barbara Welsh, Palo Alto.

For further information regarding the summer program, call the Pacific Grove Adult School, Monterey 2-5846 between 7 and 10 p.m.

get the 70.

Reason for the change of numbers is that with the increase of boxes it has been necessary to number many of them A, B, C, such as 37A, 37B, 37C. "Some of them going darn near through the alphabet," according to one P. O. official.

It was getting very inconvenient for the P. O. Hence the change.

GIRL FOR BECKY AND JOHNNY

A brace of high school teachers of the Peninsula are absent-mindedly wielding their rulers and chalk these days, while they gloat over their joint contribution to the preschool population, having acquired, Thursday, May 11, a little granddaughter.

The baby, as yet unnamed, is the firstborn of Becky and Johnny Westover, popular young couple of Carmel. Becky Bell Westover came to Carmel when a child herself, and graduated from Sunset and from the Carmel High School, spending one further year at the Monterey College. Johnny and his folks came here some time later.

Distaff grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell and on the paternal side Mr. and Mrs. John Westover claim grand-parenthood. Grandfather Bell teaches at the Monterey High School and Grandfather Westover is a member of the Carmel faculty.
